THE Subscriber having lately returned from viewing the land, surveyed and appropriated to satisfy the land warrants, issued by the secretary at war, to the officers and soldiers of the late continental army; and having made arrangements with Mr. James Johnson, of Chester county, Pennsylvania, who he left on the land, and who with the assistance of an intelligent inhabitant of that county, will spend five months in exploring the different sections. Foreign Intelligence.

PARIS, September 15.

The 11th of this month was set aside as sacred, in commemoration of Joubert. The Presidents of the two Councils delivered orations in praise of him, and the Republican Oath was taken again a new. The bureau in each hall in which the Councils assembled was covered over with crape. A Statue, representing the Republic, overlooked a contigious Urn, over which it held a civic Crown. The Representatives wore a crape on one arm and each of them carried a twig of Cypress in his hand.

Formerly Joubert was known as a parliamentary Lawyer at Pont, and in the year 1792 he obtained a commission as Lieutenant, shortly after he was taken prisoner, and carried before the King of Sardinia, in the presence of whom and his nobles he values himself most upon the title of a French citizen.

On the 11th of August Pichegru had a private conference at Augsburg with Dundre and Precy (the latter of whom was commander in chief of the siege at Lyons) directly after which Pichegru sat off for Ueberlingen, which place is pointed out to all emigrants as their rendezvous. They are to act against such of the French departments as are most contiguous to Switzerland.

Redacteur.

ITALY, Sept. 26.

We have intelligence, that the Austrians have taken the city of Pignerol, by assault.

HARLINGEN, Sept. 27.

Twenty-seven English frigates, brigs, &c. covered the Zuyderzee, before Enckhuysen. Two English gun-boats, each carrying eighteen 12 pounders, are off Lemmer.—Sept. 30. Lemmer has surrendered.

SCHAFFHAUSEN, September 29.

We have not received intelligence from Zurich, since that city has been occupied by the French; and we have no knowledge of the articles of capitulation. Many of the Russian wounded officers and soldiers are here, who in the retreat lost some of their baggage. In the council of war, held yesterday, by Generals Korsacow, Nauendorff and Kienmaier, it was resolved, that all the Russian and Austrian troops in this vicinity, should immediately advance.

LINDAU, September 29.

The bridge over the Rhine, which was taken up yesterday morning, will be thrown over to night, and the corps of Gen. Petrarsch, whose head quarters have been at Bregenz, is to advance in haste, as he has been apprized that generals Jellachich and Auffenberg, have united with Marshal Suwarrow, who was advancing into the heart of Switzerland. He already occupies Lucerne.

September 30.

The retreat which the imperial troops made on the 25th and 26th from Utzwich, by the Toggenbourg, and the canton of Appenzel, was very fatiguing. After the good news which has arrived of the progress of Marshal Suwarrow in the South of Switzerland, general Petrarsch and Gruber are preparing to advance by the Rhinthal.

The French appeared the 29th before Constance, but were driven therefrom the same day. It is not Marshal Suwarrow who has arrived at Feldkirch as reported; but it is gen. Jellachich. The French have been in the environs of St. Gall, but in such small numbers, as easily to be dispersed.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 30.

"On the 30th Aug. we received advice, of the arrival of the Grand Vizir, at Damascus. We have no recent news from Egypt."

BRUSSELS, Sept. 30.

General Moreau takes the command of the army of the Rhine, on the 10th Oct. Gen. Macdonald, is to command the army of the North.

Vast reinforcements are in march, to reinforce the Batavian armies.

DONAUESCHINGEN, Oct. 1.

The Austrians are advancing from Felkirk The Austrian Col. Lauer, has attacked the French in Glaris, beaten them, and taken 1500 prisoners, and two standards. The Austrian Generals are to march against the left wing of the French, while Suwarrow takes them in the rear by St. Gothard.

VIENNA, October 2.

The Court Gazette, this day contains the following authentic detains:—

The Prince of Rohan has informed his Imperial Majesty, that on the 28th September, the enemy, to the number of 8000 advanced to Domo d' Ossold, to attack his position at Vogogna. The Prince not expecting so formidable a force, was necessitated to retreat; but on the 22d, he unexpectedly attacked the enemy with various success, and having recommenced the battle on the 23d, the enemy was completely beaten and driven beyond Simpion to Brieg, in the Valais, which last place the Prince has occupied. The Cadet Hagen, who brought the dispatches, estimates the loss of the French, at between 3 and 4000 men. This Cadet, the Prince writes, entered a battery of the enemy, and with his own hand took the standard, which he bore to his Imperial Majesty.

The reports of the surrender of Genoa, on the 23d September by capitulation, is not mentioned in the Court Gazette.

October 4.

The Cardinals have requested of his Imperial Majesty, the grant of the Venetian island of St. George, to hold the conclave on. About twenty of them have assembled at Venice; amongst them is the Dean of the Holy College; the Cardinals Albani, Caprara and Maury.

SWABIA, October 3.

It is believed, that for some days the united Imperial armies have advanced, and re-occupied their former position in Switzerland. The head quarters of marshal Petrarsch, who commands the division of Hotze, was still on the 29th, at St. Gall. A body of troops have passed the Lake of Constance and the Rhine. General Korsakow's (Russian) head quarters are at Eglisau, upon the right bank of the Rhine. Some bodies of French troops advanced between the seperated armies, and progressed to the suburbs of Schaffhausen, Winterthur, Frauenfield and some even to Constance; but they are not numerous.

It is believed marshal Suwarrow will take immediately the chief command at Eglisau.

The main body of the army of the Archduke, has arrived at Donaueschingen (in Swabia). It is expected that his Royal Highness will make an attack on the side of Basle.

The French have evacuated Auenheim, near Kehl; 3000 men who were there, have gone to Strasburg; the Austrians immediately took possession of the post. The French are making movements, as if to penetrate into the Brisgaw, by the side of Brisach.

It is not expected that Massena will advance from Zurich, towards the Lake of Constance, and the Rhine, while he has such bodies of enemies in his rear.

The news respecting Fieldmarshal Suwarrow, are contradictory. By that from Feldkirch, it would seem, that he had joined the corps of Gen. Petrarsch, after having beaten a division of French troops, and killed and made prisoners of 2000, who was actually advancing in Switzerland, on the other side. The other account is from Augsburg, dated Oct. 1, as follows—"We have this day received by an extraordinary messenger the important news, that Marshal Suwarrow, on the 28th September, entered Lucerne with his army, and that he was preparing to march against Berne. The inhabitants of the little cantons all join him. Orders have been sent to the Grisons at Rhinthal and Shauffhausen, with generals Nauendorff and Keinmaier. On the 29th, a heavy cannonade was heard near Ravensbourg."

BRUSSELS, October 3.

The Russian Gen. Hermann, accompanied by his aids-de-camp arrived here yesterday. The other Russian prisoners, in all about 700, are expected to-day. They made a three day's stay at Antwerp, where a collection of 3000 florins was made for them amongst the inhabitants. The English prisoners to the number of 400, are sent to Ghent, whence they will be transferred to the citadel of Lisle.

HANAU, October 5.

Gen. Muller has been ordered to surrender the chief command of the French army of the Rhine, to Gen. Ney.—The capture of Manheim is said to be the cause. General Ney's head quarters are at Hageneau, in Alsace. It is estimated there are 10,000 French in the Environs of Mayence and Ehrenbriestein, who are preparing to advance.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 5.

In the action of the 2d, we took 107 highlanders, who have been sent to Utrecht. There has just arrived here 100 other prisoners. Within two days 3000 French troops have passed this city, on their way to the armies.

The English are masters of Lemmer, and have taken post in Friseland; from whence they can easily march to this city by land. We are, however, continually at work on the batteries upon the dyke at Naerden.

The greatest loss in the battle of the 2d, fell on the French; and the most part of the officers of General Brune's staff, have perished. Some corps were cut off, so that the inundations ordered by us, have been more fatal to us than to the enemy. We were beginning to set the water mills at work, but the English have set them on fire with their artillery.

The enemy entered Alkmaar the 3d inst. at five o'clock in the afternoon; and we learn that the head quarters of Gen. Brune has been transferred from Beverwick to Haerlem; from whence they will be removed here should the enemy advance any further. The English head quarters, we learn, are at Alkmaar; and some of their troops have advanced to the neighbourhood of Haerlem. The batteries which the English erected on the Dunes, in the action of the 2d, made great destruction amongst the French.

ZWOLL, Oct. 6.

The English having made themselves masters of all the coasts of the Zuder Zee, in Friesland and Gueldres, have summoned the city of Harderwick to surrender.

This day we hear a lively cannonade.

Our loss in the battle of the 2d, has not yet been accurately ascertained, and we have had no official account on the subject.

☞ This delay is ominous, of its being more considerable than the Gallo Batavians wish should be known.

HAMBURG, October 10.

As far as can be learned from the favorable and unfavorable accounts of the late events in Switzerland, it appears that both armies attacked, on the same day, at different points, according to different plans, and with various but mutual success. The consequences can alone decide the victory:—We will, however, grant all possible success to Massena, and let him safely pursue his victories near Utznach and Zurich towards the Rhine, and the lake of Constance—Four renowned Generals are at his heels, who may in all probability bring his army before two fires:—But supposing the worst of chances to befal the Austro-Russians, and the most favorable for the French General, we cannot find any advantage for him in his last victory, which tended only to weaken, in a considerable degree, his exhausted forces.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE time being fixed on, when the MILITARY LAND (commonly called Knox's) WARRANTS, granted to the United States' army, are to be registered and located,—the Subscribers have explored that tract of land on which those warrants are to be laid; with a view, and for the purpose of offering their services as locaters.

We take the liberty of suggesting, "that we are at least as well acquainted with the situation, quality of the soil, &c. of the different townships in the aforesaid tract, as any other person;" this will, perhaps, appear more clearly, by observing, that WILLIAM C. SCHENK assisted in running the Indian boundary line; at which time he considerably traversed that tract: he also assisted in surveying and laying it off into townships, and at other times ranged over it, to gain information. But to obtain a more complete and accurate knowledge, we have lately spent between two and three months, with several assistants, in particularly examining the different townships and quarter townships; by which means we have acquired an accurate knowledge of the whole district.—We now offer our services to the public, as Locaters, with assurances that we will locate every persons warrants intrusted to us to the best advantage, agreeably to their rights of location, which is to be determined according to law. For our services we demand the one equal tenth part, either in lands or warrants, when we locate a full tract of four thousand acres or more, for one person or firm; the land to be taken in a square, at a corner of the tract; which corner is to be equitably determined before the time of location.—The one equal sixth part, in cash or warrants, when we connect and locate any amount less than four thousand acres. We will be in Philadelphia from December next, until after the time of location, to transact this business. Any person wishing to satisfy himself farther, will please to call on us, by letter, (postage paid) or otherwise; when due attention will be paid, and such vouchers may be seen as we have to offer, which we hope will be satisfactory.

The Court appoint the first day of next term, to hear the petitioner and his creditors, and order that he give his creditors public notice hereof, in Fenno's Philadelphia paper, and in Yundt and Brown's Baltimore paper, for one week, ending at least four weeks before the day of hearing; and that he also give to John Gillespie and Jacob Everhart personal notice in writing, to be served on them, at least fifteen days previous to the hearing. TRUE WISDOM.

As mankind after many ſeries of experiments through a long ſucceſſion of ages, have fallen ſhort of attaining perfection in any one inſtance, in any one department of human œconomy, it is maintained on high authority, to be true wiſdom, now to reject all further experiments founded on paſt experience, and to aim by novel methods at that ſtandard of perfectibility, which modern illumination declares to be attainable, every "ſad ſentence of an ancient date" to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The army eſtabliſhment of the United States, it is well underſtood, is to be the early object of a grand, general attack from the Democrats. CONGRESS.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MONDAY, December 9.

The Houſe reſolved itſelf into a Committee of the whole, on the Addreſs to be preſented to the Preſident of the United States, in anſwer to his Speech to both Houſes, at the commencement of the preſent ſeſſion—Mr. Dent in the chair: When

Mr. Grege moved, that the words diſtinguiſhed by Italics, in the third and fourth lines of the ſecond paragragh of the addreſs, be ſtruck out, and that the words "act in" be inſerted in their ſtead; which produced a ſhort debate, and was finally negatived.

The committee then roſe,—the addreſs was reported without amendment; and agreed to by the Houſe, in the words following, viz.

To the Preſident of the United States.

SIR,

WHILE the Houſe of Repreſentatives contemplate the flattering proſpects of abundance from the labors of the people by land and by ſea, the proſperity of our extended commerce, notwithſtanding interruptions occaſioned by the belligerent ſtate of a great part of the world, the return of health, induſtry and trade, to thoſe cities which have lately been afflicted with diſeaſe; and the various and ineſtimable advantages, civil and religious, which, ſecured under our happy frame of government, are continued to us unimpaired, we cannot fail to offer up to a benevolent Deity, our ſincere thanks, for theſe, the merciful diſpenſations of his protecting providence.

That any portion of the people of America ſhould permit themſelves, amidſt ſuch numerous bleſſings, to be ſeduced by the arts and miſrepreſentations of deſigning men into an open reſiſtance of a law of the United States, cannot be heard without deep and ſerious regret. Under a conſtitution where the public burthens can only be impoſed by the people themſelves, for their own benefit and to promote their own objects, a hope might well have been indulged that the general intereſt would have been too well underſtood, and the general welfare too highly prized, to have produced in any of our citizens, a diſpoſition to hazard ſo much felicity, by the criminal effort of a part, to oppoſe with lawleſs violence the will of the whole. While we lament that depravity which could produce a defiance of the civil authority, and render indiſpenſible the aid of the military force of the nation, real conſolation is to be derived from the promptneſs and fidelity with which that aid was afforded. The zealous and active co-operation with the judicial power, of the volunteers and militia called into ſervice, which has reſtored order and ſubmiſſion to the laws, is a pleaſing evidence of the attachment of our fellow citizens to their own free Government, and of the truly patriotic alacrity with which they will ſupport it.

To give due effect to the civil adminiſtration of government, and to enſure a juſt execution of the laws, are objects of ſuch real magnitude as to ſecure a proper attention to your recommendation of a reviſion and amendment of the judiciary ſyſtem.

Highly approving, as we do, the pacific and humane policy which has been invariably profeſſed and ſincerely purſued by the Executive authority of the United States, a policy which our beſt intereſts enjoined, and of which honor has permitted the obſervance, we conſider as the moſt unequivocal proof of your inflexible perſeverance in the ſame well choſen ſyſtem, your preparation to meet the firſt indications on the part of the French Republic, of a diſpoſition to accommodate the exiſting differences between the two countries, by a nomination of miniſters on certain conditions, which the honor of our country unqueſtionably dictated, and which its moderation had certainly given it a right to preſcribe. When the aſſurances thus required of the French government previous to the departure of our envoys, had been given through their miniſter of foreign relations, the direction that they ſhould proceed on their miſſion, was, on your part, a completion of the meaſure, and manifeſts the ſincerity with which it was commenced. We offer up our fervent prayers to the Supreme Ruler of the univerſe for the ſucceſs of their embaſſy, and that it may be productive of peace and happineſs to our common country. The uniform tenor of your conduct through a life uſeful to your fellow citizens, and honorable to yourſelf, gives a ſure pledge of the ſincerity with which the avowed objects of the negociation will be purſued on your part, and we earneſtly pray that ſimilar diſpoſitions may be diſplayed on the part of France. The differences which unfortunately ſubſiſt between the two nations, cannot fail, in that event to be happily terminated. To produce this end, to all ſo deſirable, firmneſs, moderation, and union at home conſtitute, we are perſuaded, the ſureſt means. The character of the gentlemen you have deputed and ſtill more, the character of the government which deputes them, are ſafe pledges to their country, that nothing incompatible with its honor or intereſt, nothing inconſiſtent with our obligations of good faith or friendſhip to any other nation, will be ſtipulated.

We learn, with pleaſure, that our citizens with their property trading to thoſe ports of St. Domingo with which commercial intercourſe has been renewed, have been duly reſpected, and that privateering from thoſe ports has ceaſed.

With you we ſincerely regret that the execution of the VIth article of the treaty of amity, commerce and navigation with Great Britain, an article produced by a mutual ſpirit of amity and juſtice, ſhould have been unavoidably interrupted. We doubt not that the ſame ſpirit of amity, and the ſame ſenſe of juſtice in which it originated, will lead to ſatisfactory explanations; and we hear with approbation, that our Miniſter at London will be immediately inſtructed to obtain them. While the engagements which America has contracted by her treaty with Great Britain, ought to be fulfilled with that ſcrupulous punctuality and good faith to which our government has ever ſo tenaciouſly adhered; yet no motive exiſts to induce, and every principle forbids us to adopt a conſtruction which might extend them beyond the inſtrument by which they are created. We cheriſh the hope that the government of Great Britain will diſclaim ſuch extenſion, and by cordially uniting with that of the United States, for the removal of all difficulties, will ſoon enable the boards appointed under the VIth and VIIth articles of our treaty with that nation, to proceed, and bring the buſineſs committed to them reſpectively, to a ſatisfactory concluſion.

The buildings for the accommodation of Congreſs, and of the Preſident, and for the public offices of the government at its permanent ſeat, being in ſuch a ſtate as to admit of a removal to that diſtrict by the time preſcribed by the act of Congreſs, no obſtacle, it is preſumed, will exiſt to a compliance with the law.

With you, ſir, we deem the preſent period critical and momentous. The important changes which are occurring, the new and great events which are every hour preparing in the political world, the ſpirit of war which is prevalent in almoſt every nation with whoſe affairs the intereſts of the United States have any connection, demonſtrate how unſafe and precarious would be our ſituation, ſhould we neglect the means of maintaining our juſt rights. Reſpecting, as we have ever done, the rights of others, America eſtimates too correctly the value of her own, and has received evidence too complete, that they are only to be preſerved by her own vigilance, ever to permit herſelf to be ſeduced by a love of eaſe or by other conſiderations, into that deadly diſregard of the means of ſelf-defence, which could only reſult from a careleſſneſs as criminal as it would be fatal, concerning the future deſtinies of our growing republic.—The reſult of the miſſion to France is, indeed ſir, uncertain. It depends not on America alone. The moſt pacific temper will not always inſure peace. We ſhould therefore exhibit a ſyſtem of conduct as indiſcreet as it would be new in the hiſtory of the world, if we conſidered the negociation happily terminated becauſe we have attempted to commence it, and peace reſtored becauſe we wiſh its reſtoration. But, ſir, however this miſſion may terminate, a ſteady perſeverance in a ſyſtem of national defence, commenſurate with our reſources, and the ſituation of our country, is an obvious dictate of duty. Experience, the parent of wiſdom, and the great inſtructor of nations, has eſtabliſhed the truth of your poſition, that, remotely as we are placed from the belligerent nations, and deſirous as we are, by doing juſtice to all, to avoid offence to any, yet nothing ſhort of the power of repelling aggreſſions will ſecure to our country a rational proſpect of eſcaping the calamities of war or national degradation.

In the progreſs of the ſeſſion, we ſhall take into our ſerious conſideration the various and important matters recommended to our attention.

A life devoted to the ſervice of your country, talents and integrity which have ſo juſtly acquired and ſo long retained the confidence and affection of your fellow citizens, atteſt the ſincerity of your declaration, that it is your anxious deſire ſo to execute the truſt repoſed in you as to render the people of the United States proſperous and happy.

Reſolved, That the Speaker attended by the houſe, do preſent the ſaid addreſs.

Meſſrs. Marſhall, Rutledge and Sewall, were appointed a committee to wait on the Preſident, to know when and where he would be ready to receive the addreſs; and having performed that ſervice, reported, that the Preſident had appointed to-morrow, two o'clock, for that purpoſe, at his own houſe.

The Houſe went into committee of the whole on the ſtate of the Union, to take into conſideration the ſeveral objects recommended in the Preſident's Speech; Mr. Dent in the chair; When

Mr. D. Foſter moved the following reſolutions, which were agreed to by the committee, viz.

1. Reſolved, That ſo much of the ſpeech of the Preſident of the United States, to both houſes of Congreſs at the commencement of the preſent ſeſſion, as relates to a reviſion and amendment of the judiciary ſyſtem, be referred to a committee, with leave to report by bill, bills, or otherwiſe.

2. Reſolved, That ſo much of the ſpeech of the Preſident of the United States, to both houſes of Congreſs, at the commencemens of the preſent ſeſſion, as relates to the expenditure of public monies, be referred to a committee of ways and means.

3. Reſolved, That ſo much of the ſpeech of the Preſident of the United States to both houſes of Congreſs at the commencement of the preſent ſeſſion, as relates to a ſyſtem of national defence, commenſurate with our reſources, and the ſituation of our country, be referred to a committee.

The committee then roſe, and the houſe having taken up the conſideration of the reſolutions, as reported, the firſt and third were agreed to; and on motion of Mr. Dent, the queſtion on agreeing to the ſecond, was poſtponed 'till to-morrow.

The credentials of William Henry Harriſon, Eſq. who has appeared as a delegate of the territory of the United States north weſt of the river Ohio, were referred to the committee of election, to report their opinion thereon to the Houſe.

On motion of Mr. Gallatin, the houſe ordered the appointment of a ſtanding committee of Ways and Means. A motion, that it conſiſt of one member from each State, was made; but on Mr. Harper's obſerving, that nine were found a ſufficient number laſt ſeſſion, and were able to obtain every information, and would be more expeditious in doing buſineſs, the latter motion was agreed to.

Adjourned.

THIS DAY

At 12 o'clock, the Senate of the United States, waited upon the Preſident of the United States, with the following, their ANSWER to his Speech, delivered to both Houſes of Congreſs, at the opening of the Seſſion.

To the Preſident of the United States.

ACCEPT, Sir, the reſpectful acknowledgments of the Senate of the United States for your Speech delivered to both Houſes of Congreſs at the opening of the preſent ſeſſion.

While we devoutly join you in offering our thanks to Almighty God for the return of health to our cities, and for the general proſperity of the country; we cannot refrain from lamenting that the arts and calumnies of factious, deſigning men have excited open rebellion a ſecond time in Pennſylvania; and thereby compelled the employment of a military force to aid the civil authority in the execution of the laws.—We rejoice that your vigilance, energy and well timed exertions have cruſhed ſo daring an oppoſition, and prevented the ſpreading of ſuch treaſonable combinations. The promptitude and zeal diſplayed by the troops called to ſuppreſs this inſurrection deſerve our higheſt commendation and praiſe, and afford a pleaſing proof of the ſpirit and alacrity with which our fellow-citizens are ready to maintain the authority of our excellent government.

Knowing as we do, that the United States are ſincerely anxious for a fair and liberal execution of the treaty of amity, commerce and navigation entered into with Great Britain; we learn with regret that the progreſs of adjuſtment has been interrupted by a difference of opinion among the commiſſioners. We hope, however, that the juſtice, the moderation, and the obvious intereſts of both parties will lead to ſatisfactory explanations, and that the buſineſs will then go forward to an amicable cloſe of all differences and demands between the two countries. We are fully perſuaded that the legiſlature of the United States will cheerfully enable you to realiſe your aſſurances of performing on our part, all engagements under our treaties with punctuality, and the moſt ſcrupulous good faith.

When we reflect upon the uncertainty of the reſult of the late miſſion to France; and upon the uncommon nature, extent and aſpect of the war now raging in Europe; which affects materially our relations with the powers at war, and which has changed the condition of their colonies in our neighbourhood; we are of opinion with you that it would be neither wiſe nor ſafe to relax our meaſures of defence, or to leſſen any of our preparations to repel aggreſſions.

Our enquiries and attention ſhall be carefully directed to the various other important ſubjects which you have recommended to our conſideration; and from our experience of your paſt adminiſtration, we anticipate with higheſt confidence your ſtrenuous co-operation in all meaſures which have a tendency to promote and extend our national intereſts and happineſs.

COLUMBIA, November 15.

On Thurſday night, the 7th inſtant, an attempt was made to rob the treaſury in this place. The perſons engaged in this buſineſs had nearly effected their way into the office, by boring holes in the door with an auger. Being from ſome cauſe or other alarmed, they retreated precipitately, and left behind them a crow-bar, an auger, an axe, and a fire burning in the paſſage. It is very aſtoniſhing that the State-houſe was not conſumed, as part of the plank on which the fire was placed, was nearly reduced to a coal.

Just Published,

A COMPENDIOUS SYSTEM

Of Practical Surveying and dividing of land; briefly comprized under the following heads, viz.

TWENTY-THREE Geometrical Definitions, eleven Geometrical Positions, exhibiting to view the properties and dependencies of triangles; followed by problems and examples preparatory to Trigonometry, heights and distances. Then fifteen problems and examples necessarily previous to calculating a Survey succeeded by seven surveys, the area of the four first is found geometrically, and of the whole number by difference of latitude and departure, shewing how to take an inaccessible boundary, find the bearing and distance of the closing line without running it, also the distances to an inaccessible corner from the two adjacent corners, followed by examples of offsets on to winding streams of water, shewing how to ascertain the area without the trouble of measuring the windings with chains and instruments—a crooked water course straitened, and a quantity of land on each side found by these offsets.

Ten examples of dividing land, with many sub-divisions, leading into the most critical circumstances that can occur in practice; an example of Intersections, and an example shewing how the bearings of a field may be truly taken where the needle is attracted, altho' the attraction may vary in quantity and denomination at every station; examples shewing the method of measuring by the chain only. All the rules are clear and explicit. This work contains the tables of difference of latitude and departure and of logarithms.

Orders sent to Joseph and James Cruckshank, Booksellers, No. 87, High-street, Philadelphia, Bonsall and Niles, 173, Market Street, Baltimore, or the Subscriber in Wilmington (Del.) will be duly attended to.

Those who have the care of subscription papers for this work, are requested to send their respective numbers as soon as possible, to whom the quota's will be sent agreeably to the proposals.

TERMS

Of Richard Folwell, in Philadelphia,

FOR SUBSCRIBING TO THE

JOURNALS OF CONGRESS,

FROM THE COMMENCEMENT

Of the American War, in 1774, to the present time,

INCLUDING

The Reports of Heads of Departments, of Committees, and other Official and Private Papers of that Body, now first permitted to be made public.

TERMS.

THE work will be printed on a fine paper, and a new neat type, in large octavo.

Each volume will contain above 500 pages, neatly bound and lettered.

Uniformity in size, paper, and binding, will be observed throughout the work; so that, while the subscribers become possessed of a valuable record, an ornament may be added to their libraries.

The price to subscribers will be 2 dolls. 75 cts. per volume, in boards, and 3 dolls. whole bound; but, as the publisher does not intend to print many more than the number subscribed for, a considerable rise on the price may be expected to non-subscribers.

Each volume will contain about one third less of letter-press than the original edition; but, as the publisher is not yet enabled to determine the extent of the Private Journals, which he may be allowed to make public, he cannot ascertain the number of volumes which will comprise the work.

☞ Payments to be made on delivery of each volume.

Subscribers will have it at their option, either to subscribe for the whole of the Journals, up to the present time, or to those only of the Old Congress prior to the organization of the Federal Government.

IN all countries, the proceedings in the commencement of their governments, are lost in darkness and obscurity, owing to a carelessness, in the succeeding generation, to preserve the public records, and the attention of the nation, in these rude ages, being called off from their domestic concerns, to engage in wars and conquest. Of what infinite value would the laws of Alfred be, had they been transmitted to our days? Time, that destroys every thing, enhances the value of well authenticated public records, and renders them almost inestimable. It is hoped, that Americans will, therefore, chearfully contribute their assistance in transmitting to posterity the labours of their ancestors—founders of the Columbian nation.

 The work will certainly be advanced with expedition and promptitude. The following will show the support it has already acquired:

"Philadelphia, June 15, 1798.

"To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States.

"The MEMORIAL of the Subscribers, Citizens, &c. of Philadelphia,

"Respectfully sheweth,

"That having, in our respective avocations, frequent occasions to recur to the Journals of Congress, we experience inconvenience by the scarcity of them: That we understand that Richard Folwell, printer, of Philadelphia, has had it in contemplation to print that public record; and that he hath obtained partial countenance from many individuals; but that he has delayed prosecuting the work, in expectation of encouragement from government, that may adequately indemnify him. We, therefore, respectfully solicit, as the publication is necessary to be disseminated among public bodies, that Congress will, in their wisdom render him such additional encouragement, to that which he has obtained from private individuals, as to enable him to proceed with the work, so that your Memorialists may be enabled to purchase copies of that record for themselves.

The Swift-Sure,

A NEW LINE OF STAGES,

NOW RUNNING BETWEEN

PHILADELPHIA & NEW-YORK,

By the short and pleasant road of Bustleton, Newtown, Scotch-Plains, Springfield and Newark.

THE excellence of this road, the populousness of the country through which it passes, with sundry other advantages, which render it so far preferable to the Old Road through Bristol, Brunswick, &c. long ago suggested the propriety of its becoming the Grand Thorough Fare from Philadelphia to New York. During the present year, a minute survey of it has been taken, and its superiority over the Old Road, both in winter and summer, has been clearly ascertained.—There are good bridges over all the other waters but the Delaware, and here the crossing is performed with great safety and in less than half the time required at the Trenton Ferry. The road is several miles shorter than the old road, but this is amongst the least of its advantages, because daily experience proves to us, that dispatch as well as comfort in travelling principally depend on the goodness of the road and the levelness of the country, and, in these respects, the New Road is, beyond all comparison, the best. It presents none of those rocky hills, which render the Old Road so fatiguing between the Delaware and Newark. The soil, too, for the greater part, is such as to produce but little mud in winter, and very little dust in summer, which circumstance, added to the beauty of the country, and a considerable proportion of shade, must always render travelling in the latter season peculiarly agreeable.

The Swift Sure starts from PHILADELPHIA, at 6 o'clock every morning (Sundays excepted) from the GREEN TREE, opposite the Lutheran Church, North Fourth Street. It goes through Frankford to Bustleton, where it stops to Breakfast; from Bustletown it goes through Newtown to Penny-town to dinner; from Penny town through Hopewell, Millstone, Bound-brook, Quibbletown and Plainfield to Scotch Plains to lodge. The next morning it stops at Springfield to breakfast, from whence it goes through Newark and arrives at New-York at noon.

From NEW-YORK it starts at 3 o'clock in the afternoon (from Paulus Hook) and arrives at Philadelphia the next evening. For seats at New-York, application may be made to Edward Bardin, Old Coffee house, to A. Mathieu, corner of Nassau and John streets, to B. Many, no. 48, Courtlandt, corner of Greenwich street, and to Michael Little, at his hotel, no. 42, Broad street.

Fare for passengers, Five Dollars.
Way passengers 6 Cents per Mile.

Each passenger is allowed to take on 14lbs. of baggage carriage free; but all other baggage, taken on by a passenger, will be charged at 4 cents per pound weight.

With respect to packages sent on without passengers, the proprietors presume they have adopted a regulation, which, though unknown to other lines of stages, they think must meet with general approbation. They pledge themselves to make good every package on the following conditions. The person who delivers the package at the office shall see it entered in the stage-book, for which entry he shall pay 6 cents; he will then state the value of the package, and pay (exclusive of the carriage) one per cent. on the value, as insurance, and for which he will receive a receipt. Thus, for instance, if he estimates his package at one dollar, he will pay one cent. and if at one hundred dollars, he will pay one dollar insurance, and in like proportion for packages of any other value.

Very few persons it is presumed, will dislike this regulation; it will however, be optionable with every one to avail himself of this security or not. But the proprietors think it right to state very explicitly, that they will be responsible for the safe delivery of no package, which is not regularly entered, and for which an insurance receipt cannot be produced.

In the distribution of the route, the greatest care has been taken to fix on such places and taverns as always afford a good accommodation and entertainment for the passengers at the most reasonable rates. The stages are well equipped furnished with fleet and steady horses, and committed to the care of intelligent sober and obliging drivers. The proprietors themselves live at the different towns and villages where the stages will stop, so that the conduct of the persons they employ is continually an object of their attention.—They take care also to see that the passengers are well provided for and politely treated at the taverns, and that no sort of chicanery or insolence is practised upon them; in short, they have spared neither pains nor expence to render the SWIFT-SURE the very best line of stages in America.

The line has now run nearly a month, during which time a great number of gentlemen have gone through, both from Philadelphia and New-York. Every passenger has found the road to surpass very far all that has been said of its excellence; and the Proprietors of the Swift Sure are extremely happy to hear the behaviour of their drivers, and the treatment at Taverns spoken of with the highest satisfaction.
